Harassment Consulting Center

In this issue, we introduce the Harassment Consulting Center again.

You may wonder “What kind of organization is the Harassment Consulting Center?”, or “May I consult about such a problem?” etc. We first introduce some examples of consultation.

We provide advice for the following problems.

- Someone in the office or laboratory says obscene words and you feel unpleasant.
- Your boss repeatedly says words which deny your ability or personality and you have troubles in mind and body.
- A staff or student around you does not come to university recently. You need an advice how to deal with the problems and what to keep in mind.
- Someone says that you are a harasser. How should you do?
- A member of your family acts strange. You ask about the situation in his/her office or laboratory and he/she seems to be harassed. (You can consult as a third person.)
- Someone around you is subjected to harassment. (You can consult as a third person.)
